City Election ballot set with interesting races around the city

By Seth Daniel

The City Election ballot for November has been set for City Council and School Committee, and it features several intriguing races – and one blockbuster Preliminary Election on Sept. 24 in District 2.

The City Clerk's Office has concluded the certification process this month, and one of the most interesting outcomes is a Preliminary Election for District 2.

Three good candidates have filed signatures for the Powderhorn Hill district, and the campaigns will begin to take shape immediately.

Incumbent Councilor Luis Tejada has filed his signatures, and he will once again face challenger Olivia Ann Walsh – an attorney who lives at the Soldiers' Home and ran against Tejada two years ago.

The interesting new candidate is Melinda Vega Maldonado, who is the daughter of Chelsea Collaborative Director Gladys Vega and the wife of a Chelsea Police officer.

Those three in the race are all very well-known in the City and will hustle for votes around the district. The outcome will leave only the top two vote getters to square off in November.

The at-large Council race will also be interesting, but will not come up for a vote until November.

Encore Boston Harbor set to give away sports car

By Seth Daniel

Encore Boston Harbor is looking to put a little pizzazz in the Labor Day weekend with a full day of giveaways and fun on Sunday, Sept. 1, a day that will culminate with a drawing to give away a McLaren sports car.

Encore President Bob DeSalvio said the giveaway will mark the first big day at the resort casino built on a major drawing. The winner will get a 2019 McLaren 570Z Spider (valued at $200,000), or the option of $100,000 cash.

"The car is a big one for us," he said. "The final drawing will be around 7 p.m., but we'll have preliminary drawings all afternoon. We start accepting entries at noon that day and there are drawings all the way from 2 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. We want to get a lot of people involved."

The promotion will feature 10 people drawn from the entries every 30 minutes. Nine of the 10 names will get $500 in credits, and the 10th name will get a slot in the final drawing for the car.

"At the end, we take all the finalists and draw the winner," said DeSalvio. "They can take the car or the cash. The others that don't win will get $2,500 in credits."

There will also be a second-chance drawing at 8 p.m.

A ROYAL SHOW

The United Kingdom's Royal Air Force Aerobatic Team – known as the Red Arrows – performed an incredible high-flying show over Boston and Chelsea on Monday morning just before lunch. Streaming red, white, and blue behind them, they tore across the sky over the Mystic/Tobin Bridge and then back over Boston. The 10-minute show was one of 20 such performances over cities in the U.S. and Canada.

New Supt. Abeyta ready to take charge of Chelsea Public Schools

By Seth Daniel

The corner office in City Hall – and the head of the Chelsea Public Schools – will have a new look and some new ideas now that incoming Supt. Almi Abeyta has taken her place as the leader of the schools, ready to welcome faculty and students on Aug. 27 for their – and her – first day of school.

After a public process last spring, Abeyta was chosen by the School Committee after a close vote, but in deciding fashion, and she reported to work on Aug. 12. This week, with former Supt. Mary Bourque still on the job to help with the transition, Abeyta has been meeting with staff and learning all about Chelsea after having left her position this summer at Somerville High School.

"I've just been listening a lot so far – getting to know people," she said. "It's one thing to read about a district – a plan – but it's a whole other thing to see it in action. What I was reading about online and hearing about in the interview process – now I'm seeing it play out and it's refreshing to see there is alignment between the two. In education, there is theory in action and theory in use. I'm seeing both working together in Chelsea Public Schools."

That was a refreshing take from the new leader of the schools as she accompanied Bourque around the district – meeting with teachers on Monday for professional development sessions at the Early Learning Center.

Abeyta comes to the district with a great deal of experience in and around Chelsea, living in Revere and having taught in leadership positions at East Boston and Somerville.

"This process was for me a long time coming," she said in a recent interview. "I just couldn't pass up Chelsea. I drove through Chelsea every day to Somerville from Revere. I really wanted to serve a community like Chelsea. When I saw it was open, I said I have to do this. I felt it was a perfect step for me professionally and personally...Having been in East Boston, Chelsea felt like home to me. It is me. It feels right and where I am supposed to be."

Abeyta grew up mostly in New Mexico in a military family, having spent time in various places around the world before settling there. After attending public schools all her life, she eventually made her way to the East Coast and went to graduate school at Harvard University. During that process, she had interned at the Donald McKay Elementary in Eastie. Intending to move on after that, she was heavily recruited by the Boston Public Schools (BPS) to take the principal job at the McKay – and she served there for four years before taking a

Repucci will retire as executive director of CAPIC

By Cary Shuman

Robert S. Repucci, executive director of CAPIC for the past 41 years, will be retiring from the agency that assists residents and seniors in Chelsea, Revere, and Winthrop.

Repucci, who has worked at CAPIC in various capacities since 1972, publicly announced his decision in a letter to friends Tuesday. He had informed the CAPIC Board of Directors at a meeting last Thursday.

Repucci, 68, said he will remain in the position until a successor is named. The succession plan to select a new CAPIC executive director has begun, and starting next week the position will be advertised in various newspapers and on social media platforms.

Chelsea community leaders lauded Repucci's many accomplishments at CAPIC. He has been the much-revered leader of the agency for decades and has always supported local organizations with his attendance at their events. CAPIC became a national model during his tenure.

"Bob Repucci's retirement is a loss for the region and a loss for the city of Chelsea," said City Manager Tom Ambrosino, who also worked closely with CAPIC when he was mayor of Revere. "Bob has been a tremendous partner to Chelsea, particularly over the last few years as we've ramped up our efforts to address a lot of the social ills in the downtown."

"A lot of our success in the past few years is due to Bob's efforts, and he will be greatly missed," added Ambrosino.

Councillor-at-Large Leo Robinson, whose relationship with Bob Repucci goes back to 1972, said, "Bob is a great person and I have nothing but respect for the man as he has a heart of gold."

GreenRoots Executive Director Roseann Bongiovanni said Repucci's important legacy will continue in the city.

"Bob Repucci has dedicated years of his life to help some of Chelsea's most needy and most vulnerable," said Bongiovanni, a former Chelsea resident.

Encore, strong July in table games

By Seth Daniel

The state released the first full month of gaming revenue figures for Encore Boston Harbor on Aug. 15, and it revealed that the resort casino is showing strong on table games, is a little weak on slots and had almost $300 million wagered in the month.

The first revenue reports for Encore last month contained only one week's worth of revenues, so the July report was much anticipated and showed overall strength in total wagers and in table games. The casino had $289.4 million wagered in slots and table games, and logged total gross gaming revenues of $48.5 million. That resulted in $12.1 million going to the state for taxes.

In particular, the table games showed strength, reporting gross gaming revenues of $27.4 million. The slot gross gaming revenues were at $21.15 million, with a 90.5 percent payout. There was a total coin in amount on the slots at $262.4 million.

At the same time, MGM Springfield showed a total wager amount of $184.5 million, with gross gaming revenues of $20.39 million – less than half of what Encore produced in the same period. Noticeably, MGM's table games were far lower than Encore, coming in at $4.88 million, which was nearly seven times lower than at Encore.

Paul DeBole, a professor at Lasell College and a gaming expert, said he viewed the results with interest. He said the table games were very strong, but the slot revenues were weaker than expected.

"The table games number is much larger than was anticipated," he said. "A good number for table games is around 25 to 33 percent. They were at 56.45 percent. That gives the indication there is a lot of table game traffic."

However, he said the opposite is true for the slot machines.

"Logging $21 million for the slot machines was pretty unimpressive for the first month," he said.

He said they averaged about $216 per machine per day, with the gold-standard of success in the industry being about $300 per machine per day.

"If a gaming machine is doing $300 per machine per day, they are happy," he said.

The same weakness showed in Springfield too, with them coming in at $196 per machine per day. Contrary to that, he said Plainridge Park did well on its slots (it is only allowed slot machines). That "So many issues must be addressed: City Services, economic development, affordable housing, public safety, elder services, Veteran care and traffic concerns to name a few. Together we can ensure that we have a strong consistent voice in our community. I look forward to having your support and ask for your vote in the City Preliminary Election Tuesday September 24."

CANDLEPIN BOWLING GREAT AJ CRUZ 65TH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Family and friends joined former Chelsea resident Antone "AJ" Cruz at his 65th birthday party that was held in the backyard of his brother Danny Cruz's beautiful home in Boston.

The many guests, including AJ's former St. Rose School classmate and friend, Bobby Breau and his wife, Assistant Supt. of Chelsea Schools Linda Breau, enjoyed a luncheon of barbecued foods, followed by desserts.

The guests enjoyed music provided by AJ's brother, Darren Cruz. Everybody serenad-

The son of Daniel Cruz Sr. and Sadie (Monteiro) Cruz, AJ Cruz grew up on Park Street and attended the Saint Rose School, Chelsea, and graduated from Chelsea High School in 1973.

AJ was well known for his candlepin bowling skills. He bowled regularly at Chet Pawlak's Chelsea Square Alleys and George Michelson's Candlepin Lanes atop Slaton's Furniture on Broadway.

AJ had a smooth, textbook delivery and a swift, cross-ally ball that exploded the pins. He was also very at toppling single pins for spares. He was a contender for the High Average award in each of his leagues. He was also known for his sharp and colorful bowling apparel.

In 1973, AJ, a clutch bowler who thrived under pressure, led the Backstabbers team to the championship in the Chelsea Record Bowling Tournament at Granada Lanes in Malden.

AJ currently resides in Houlbrook and works at DeMoulas Market Basket.

sea city councillor. "His contributions to the betterment of our city should not be overlooked. While we are sad to see Bob retire, we know his legacy will live on."

On Beacon Hill, Speaker of the House Robert A. DeLeo also lauded Repucci's career as an administrator at CAPIC.

"In all years of government, Bob was one of the most caring people I ever worked with," said DeLeo. "Whenever people in the community needed a helping hand, Bob always found a way to say yes. He has been a tireless and kind servant to his community. I thank him for all of his years of service and his friendship."

'A challenging decision'

Repucci said his decision to leave CAPIC was a challenging one.

"This has been a challenging decision given my utmost devotion to CAPIC and my need to safeguard the legacy of those who preceded me and those to follow," wrote Repucci, whose agency helps low-income residents in Revere, Chelsea, and Winthrop.

He said one of the reasons for deciding to leave the position at CAPIC was that "I've become growingly saddened and frustrated with the housing situation that we have in Chelsea, Revere, and Winthrop. I've watched all these people that are essentially being forced out of their housing."

"All this great residential building has caused rents to increase – the new developments are looking at $1,800 to $3,000 a month so the average landlord of a three-family house looks at that and says, 'I'm only getting $1,100, but I could get $1,800 or $2,000 a month, that's one of the contributing factors why these rents are going up and I want to do something about it.'"

Will lead Winnisimmet Realty Corporation

When Repucci leaves CAPIC he will assume the duties of executive director of the Winnisimmet Realty Corporation, whose mission is to acquire property for the interest of the CAPIC agency.

He said it will be tough to leave CAPIC and the outstanding, professional staff that he has overseen for more than four decades.

"CAPIC is my home and the people that work there are really family to me," said Repucci. "Separation from the organization is going to be as tough as I thought because of all these issues that we have that are poverty-related and I'm working on."

He said people's "access to healthcare" is one of the issues that brought him to work for CAPIC in 1972 "and here we are 48 years later looking at the same issue recurring and that's in the presence of health centers which we didn't have back then."

Repucci will be involved in the process to select his successor as executive director. He is in charge of recruiting candidates and expects a large pool of diverse applicants for the position.

role in the central administration of the BPS.

"I took the job because I fell in love with the people of East Boston, and I just really liked that neighborhood," she said. "I was happy in Boston and everything I wanted to do professionally I was doing. Then I got a call out of the blue."

That call came from Sante Fe, New Mexico, where her hometown was recruiting her to come back and be a key deputy superintendent during a transition time in the system.

That was a job she couldn't pass up, she said, having wanted to be home for such a long time. However, Boston was calling her, and she soon accepted a job as deputy superintendent at the Somerville Public Schools – which is where she has been.

Abeyta has been a rising star in the education world in Boston and New Mexico for several years, but said she has not taken the step for superintendent before due to her family obligations. This year, her daughter graduated from school in New Mexico and is headed to Boston to go to college. Abeyta said she had never wanted to take on the demanding role of superintendent until her daughter was in college.

"To be superintendent, I feel like you have to be completely committed," she said. "I always said I'd be ready for that step in my career when my daughter went to college and I was more of an empty-nester."

Coming into the district – and able to keep a pretty good conversation in Spanish – Abeyta said she feels like she can take the system to the next level.

"I see a district where there are already systems and structures in place," she said. "People are working hard on instruction. There is so much energy. That's exciting and attracted me when I applied. It was a great place where I didn't have to go in and rebuild. That's a gift...There are a lot of good things happening already. My role is to build on those great things and take them to the next level. That next step will depend on what I hear and see in the data. I will take that next step with the community."

School starts in Chelsea on Weds., Aug. 27, for students across the school system.

Reia’s Team Reigns Again

Chelsea’s Feliz twins help Phunk win national title

By Cary Shuman

The Phunk Phenomon junior dance team has struck gold once again.

Competing at the USA Hip Hop National Championships in Phoenix, Arizona, where the temperature outside the Arizona Grand was 115 degrees, the Phunk’s nine-member dance team captured first place in the USA Junior Division Gold.

Chelsea had its share of contributors to Phunk’s national championship performance. Phunk is coached by Chelsea High graduate and former New England Patriots cheerleader Reia Briggs-Connor.

For Briggs-Connor, owner of the Phunk Phenomonon Dance Complex in Everett, it was her sixth national title and the second consecutive crown in the Junior Division.

“It was a full sold-out audience each time they performed,” said Briggs-Connor, daughter of Barbara Casino of Chelsea. “It was amazing. There were 53 countries there and we took ninth in the worlds.”

One of the most spectacular dancers for Phunk is Aaron Connor, 9-year-old son of Reia Briggs-Connor and Everett Police Officer Rick Connor.

“It’s pretty cool to have your son on the team,” said Reia. “His nana still lives in Chelsea. I’m proud of him. It was a great kickoff to our dance season.”

Chelsea also had two identical twin sisters, 11-year-olds Mya and Madyson Feliz, excelling for the Phunk contingent. They are the daughters of former Chelsea High basketball star Charol Soto, (who played on the school’s greatest team ever alongside Autumn Lopez and Denise Chappell), and Jovanny Feliz.

“Madyson and are from Chelsea and I’m so proud of them since I’m a Chelsea girl myself,” said Reia.

Madyson said she has been dancing at Reia’s studio since she was five years old. She said it was exciting to be on a national championship team.

“It felt really good to win because I’ve been training for a lot of years and it actually paid off,” said Madyson, who showed her talents with a backhand spring during the routine. “I like dancing a lot. It’s my passion and it’s just really fun and I just like to do it. It’s fun having my sister dancing with me.”

Maydon praised Coach Reia, saying, “She’s really nice and caring and wants to help everybody. She’s just a great teacher.”

Charol Soto traveled to Arizona to watch her daughters win a national championship.

“I’m happy that my mother was there,” said Madyson, who has performed with L’il Phunk at Boston Celtics games. “She helps a lot and makes sure that everything is organized.”

Mya Feliz said the hard work paid off the team.

“I was really excited because the hard work all summer paid off,” said Mya. “We could have been doing something else but I’m glad I was dancing.”

Mya said it was “unbelievable” when the announcement was made that Phunk had won the gold medal.

“I couldn’t believe it,” said Mya, who with her sister, simultaneously executed the backhand spring in the routine. “I was starting to cry a little bit because I was so happy.”

The Feliz twins practice together at home and are also classmates in school. Both girls also play basketball. Mya thanked her mother for her support and encouragement. “I just love her,” said Mya.

Aaron Connor brought home his second national championship medal.

“I didn’t expect to be a two-time medalist but I came in confident and I got it,” said Aaron. “We work well as a team and we help each other out on the stage.”

Aaron is in third season performing with L’il Phunk at Celtics’ games. “I like the crowd – it really pumps me up,” said Aaron, who thanked his parents for their important role in his success in dance.

Speaking about his twin teammates from Chelsea, Aaron said, “They [Mya and Madyson] are awesome. I love my team.”

Reia Briggs-Connor said

it’s been a difficult summer to coach the Phunk Phenomonon dance team. “I lost my dance teacher, Genevieve Spinelli, and I just want to thank her for everything she did for me. Being from a small studio in Chelsea and being able to grow in to something like this and bring these kids to meet people from all over the world, from what Genevieve taught me, it means a lot.”

Reia also paid tribute to her best friend, Trina Wilkerson, who passed away in March. “We’ve started a scholarship program for Chelsea kids through the Trina Wilkerson Dance Foundation,” said Reia. “We’ll be holding an essay contest for the scholar-facility did about $323 per machine per day, subtracting out the 50 multi-game station from the total of 1,250 machines.

“Plainridge Park is doing well and I think they’ve turned the corner in getting people through the door,” he said.

He said he will be watching to see how the Encore casino performs in cold weather, as things such as that are known to drop off in the winter months. He said other facilities showed a small loss in December, January and February, and then a pickup in activity around March.

“We’ll have to watch it over time to see how it fluctuates and what the seasonal variations are,” he said. “They don’t have a cold weather casino where they are subject to winter weather storms. We’ll see how that plays out and how they’ll handle that.”

Another key thing to watch, he said, is the activity of the Connecticut casinos. He said they are down now 13 of the last 13 months ors Roy Avellaneda and Leo Robinson will be on the ballot.

Challenging them will be License Commission Chair Mark Rossi – who ran for a district seat last time out – and Chris Winam, a newcomer on the scene with deep Chelsea roots.

District 1 Council features a vacant seat with the bowing out of Councilor Bob Bishop. Running for the empty seat are Planning Board member Todd Taylor, and Economic Development Board member Rick Pantano. Both are very well-known in the city and are very active in City affairs. It will be a close race to the end.

In District 4, it seemed like Councilor Joe Perlatonda wasn’t going to have an opponent, but late in the process Naomi Zabot successfully turned in her Nomination Papers – and so Mill Hill will have a race on its hands too.

Councilor Judith Garcia in District 5 has had several contests over her tenure, and this time won’t be different, as she will face Jason Benetti from the waterfront area.

Councilors Enio Lopez (District 3), Giovanni Recupero (District 6), Yamir Rodriguez (District 7) and Calvin Brown (District 8) will have no opponent on the ballot.

•SCHOOL COMMITTEE

There is no Preliminary Election in the School Committee, but there will be one to watch when it comes to the at-large race, where there is no incumbent due to School Committeeman Frank DePatto choosing not to run again.

That leaves Shawn O’Regan, a former School Committeeman, who is making another run and said he is ready to challenge the system after having watched it work previously.

The other candidate for the at-large seat is Roberto Jimenez Rivera, who grew up in Puerto Rico and came to the mainland to attend the University of Michigan. He and his wife, Sarah, recently moved to Chelsea, and he works as an admission’s officer at a local university.

A race in District 1 will also be interesting as long-time School Committeewoman Rosemarie Carlisle will face James O’Regan. Both have deep roots in Chelsea and the votes will be close.

The only other race is in District 7 where incumbent Kelly Garcia will face former School Committeeman Charles Klauder.

Incumbents Jeannette Velez (District 2), Marisol Santiago (District 3), Lucia Henriquez (District 4), Henry Wilson (District 5), Ana Hernandez (District 6), and Yessenia Alfaró-Alvarez (District 8) will have no opponents on the ballot.

“It’s a full day of promotions around that drawing that is really the culmination of our entire August promotional campaign,” he said.

•In addition, another major promotion now available for Red Card holders is in the realm of parking.

DeSalvio said they have started a promotion for free, midweek parking at the resort. Between 5 a.m. Monday and 5 p.m. Friday, Red Card holders will get free parking. On weekends, parking for Red Card holders is just one credit from their card.

“The idea behind this is that during the week, we have opportunity in the garage,” he said. “We get a lot of customers that ask for this because they go to regional resorts with free parking. We decided we can do it midweek, and then charge $1 on weekends. That’s a way to reward those playing in the casino. They can use the comp dollar on weekends and on weekdays they can park for free.”

•DeSalvio said they are also offering deeply discounted hotel rooms (up to 35 percent off) this month in a partnership with Expedia and Priceline.

He said that while they are building up their clientele, they wanted to take the opportunity to reward those with a Red Card.

“The idea is that as we continue to build up the hotel to full occupancy, we want folks to experience it,” he said. “We want people to experience the rooms. In the next few months, they start the convention business and discounts go down. So, in the opening period, we wanted to let folks experience the rooms.”

WHAT HAPPENED TO OUR RED SOX, NATION?

After 2018's record-setting season in which our Red Sox won the most regular-season games (108) in their history and then vanquished the Yankees, Astros, and Dodgers in the post-season by a combined 11-3 en route to winning the World Series, it seemed that the sky was the limit for 2019.

We had the "best" manager in Alex Cora, guiding a group of young and exciting players -- led by Mookie, J.D., Xander, Andrew, and Rafael -- as well as a pitching staff -- paced by the "un-hittable" Chris Sale -- that seemed destined to repeat as world champions.

But a funny thing happened from the end of 2018 to the beginning of 2019: Our Sox came down to earth.

When they did not re-sign their closer, Craig Kimbrel, perhaps the most essential position in baseball today, and then opened the season with a 2-8 start, it was evident that 2019 was not going to be a repeat of 2018.

Injuries piled up, pitchers went on and off the IL, and the magic of 2018 never reappeared. Mookie's ever-beaming smile had been replaced with the grimace of defeat.

As we write this, the Sox stand at 67-59, six games behind Tampa Bay in the extra wild-card spot, with Oakland in between.

In addition, they have a killer schedule in their final 36 games. And with Chris Sale essentially out for the rest of the season, the Sox' chances (which stand at 2.8 percent) of making the playoffs are shortening every day as surely as summer's fading sun. And even if they do make it, will they really be any match for any of the other playoff teams?

For young Red Sox fans, the disappointment of 2019 offers a life lesson: When you're on top, everybody wants to take you down.

For those of us who have seen this all before, the saga of the 2019 Red Sox brings to mind the line from the Impossible Dream record of the 1967 season (and yes, we still have our well-worn, vinyl album, as well as a CD of it) that has summed up so many Red Sox seasons both before and since:

When April's high aspirations,
Turned to September's tears.

Let's go, Patriots!

When drug prices mean more than sick patients

By Merrill Matthews

The Department of Health and Human Services has a new plan to cut drug spending. But it's not a change for the better.

To lower spending in Medicare Part B -- the component of Medicare that covers advanced, physician-administered medicines -- the agency plans to tie U.S. drug prices to the artificially low prices paid in other countries.

This would harm patients. Price controls may save the government money in the short term, but they would slow the rate of medical progress.

In most developed countries, the government dictates the price of prescription drugs. Governments use this power to pinch pennies, often at the expense of providing access to the newest breakthrough medicines.

Creating just a single new medicine costs an average of $1.7 billion and can take more than a decade. And only a handful of drugs sell enough to cover their research and development costs -- much less subsidize ongoing research into new medicines.

If the government decides drug prices, drug developers will have a harder time recouping those investments -- making investment less appealing. Progress towards therapies for illnesses like Alzheimer's and cancer would slow. New drug launches would become rare.

U.S. patients currently have better access to the newest drugs than any other country. Consider that 89 percent of 290 new drugs released between 2011 and 2018 were available in the United States at the time of their initial launch. By contrast, German patients had access to only 62 percent of these medicines.

Delayed access to new drugs is the unfortunate reality for too many people around the world. If we import their policies, we will import their diminished access to new drugs as well.

HHS's reform puts the financial interests of the federal government before the well-being of actual patients.

COMMUNITY COMES TOGETHER TO BUILD VOLUNTEERS JOIN KaBOOM! TO BEGIN PROCESS OF TRANSFORMING DEVER PARK

Volunteers from JetBlue, GreenRoots, and the community prepared on Tuesday, Aug. 20, at Dever Park basketball court for a community park building session. They will join KaBOOM! on Thursday, August 22, to transform Dever into a multi-sport court in just five hours. The new playspace will help make play the easy choice for kids and families in Chelsea.

Having a safe place to play is an important part in childhood development that impacts their physical, creative, cognitive, social and emotional skills. But as kids grow older, many experience challenges that make it difficult to get mental and physical activity and just be kids.

Sean Slipp from the City of Chelsea prepares a hole on the court for a repair.

Adela Gonzalez makes sure that there are enough bolts for the new playground equipment.

In July, kids from the community came together to draw their dream playspace. The playspace is based off their drawings and will provide thousands of kids with a great, safe place to play during its lifetime.

The multi-sport court is part of a broader effort led by JetBlue and KaBOOM! to ensure communities have great PLAYces for kids and families. JetBlue and KaBOOM! have worked together for more than 10 years to build 30 playgrounds bringing safe PLAYces to nearly 300,000 children and families.

Legislature passes balanced budget with targeted investments in education, housing, environment

State Rep. Dan Ryan, along with his colleagues in the Massachusetts Legislature, passed its Fiscal Year 2020 (FY20) budget recently, which invests in programs and services across the Commonwealth. Funded at $43.1 billion, the budget makes major investments in education, housing, substance use disorder services, health care, and other areas while projecting a more than $476 million deposit into the Stabilization Fund – bringing the fund’s balance to more than $3 billion to safeguard the future of vital programs and services.

“I am proud of this fiscally responsible budget that supports the needs of individuals, families, and communities across the Commonwealth through thoughtful investments that increase local aid, strengthen our health care system and protect the environment,” said House Speaker Robert A. DeLeo (D-Winthrop). “This budget bolsters our ongoing efforts to combat the opioid crisis, invest in high-quality early education and care and makes another significant deposit into the state’s Stabilization Fund. These investments will have a long and lasting positive effect on the residents of Massachusetts. I want to thank Chair Michlewitz for his leadership and my colleagues in the House, especially those on the conference committee, who worked to put this package together.”

State Rep. Dan Ryan said he was very happy to see the overall investments in the State Budget, particularly in education funding, and he said his district also made out very well this year with several earmarks in the budget.

- In Chelsea, those included:
- Lewis Lattimer Society $50,000 (MA Marketing Partnership)
  - CONNECT $25,000 (Workforce Development)
  - CPS Youthworker $75,000
  - Chelsea Fire Dept. Re-

- cords $10,000
- Chelsea Soldier’s Home $89,266,737
  - Triangle Workforce Dev. $100,00 (School To Career for developmentally disabled adults).
  - Early College Credit $2 million (DESE)
  - CAPIC $250,000 (Housing and Eco Dev)

The budget increases Unrestricted General Government Aid (UGGA) by nearly $30 million and provides $5.17 billion in Chapter 70 education funding as part of a $268 million increase for investments in schools over Fiscal Year 2019. In addition, the budget includes a $10.5 million reserve for low-income students while the Joint Committee on Education continues its work on this issue. It also addresses the need for integrated student health and wellness supports, providing $2 million to establish the Supporting Health Alliances Reinforcing Education (SHARE) grant program to address non-academic barriers to school success. The budget expands the role of the Office of the Child Advocate to oversee integrated coordination of education and health programming. Additional education allocations include:

- $345 million for Special Education reimbursement;
- $115 million for Charter School Reimbursement; and
- $75.8 million for Regional School Transportation reimbursement.

The budget builds on the Legislature’s commitment to ensuring children have access to high-quality early education and care (EEC). The budget invests in those who work with children by increasing rates for early education providers by $20 million and supporting continuing education opportunities with community colleges. The conference report provides $7.5 million for the Commonwealth Pre-school Partnership Initiative to expand access across the Commonwealth. The budget also includes additional investments into Head Start grants and quality improvement measures in core EEC programming.

The budget represents some of the biggest increases seen in a generation when it comes to housing and homelessness funding. Access to safe, adequate, and affordable housing is essential and provides the foundation from which families and individuals can lead successful lives. This year, the budget continues these efforts by providing:

- $116 million for the Massachusetts Rental Voucher Program (MRVP);
- $72 million for Public Housing Subsidies;
- $8 million for Alternative Housing Voucher Program; and
- $53.4 million for Homeless individual shelters.

The budget continues make investments in the Commonwealth’s efforts to fight the opioid epidemic – a public health crisis that has touched nearly every household across the Commonwealth. To help those in need, the budget gives all EMS and ambulance companies access to discounted naloxone, making it more available for use in the field. In addition, the budget includes:

- $150.2 million for the Bureau of Substance Addiction Services, which will help create five new recovery centers across Massachusetts and support substance use disorder workforce initiatives; and
- $5.5M for a comprehensive statewide strategy for community-based harm reduction services.

For the first time in nearly 20 years, the budget will increase the Commonwealth’s contribution into the Community Preservation Act, which will ensure that over $36 million more will be distributed to projects all across the Commonwealth and help raise the state’s match up to 30 percent for investments in open space, affordable housing and historic preservation.

Teaching More Than Just Dance: Nicole Zervas Dance Academy

By Sydney Ciano

Nicole Paolo, director of Nicole Zervas Dance Academy (NZDA), started dancing as a way to express emotion - a tool of communication. She opened her studio with the same goal in mind, with the help from her director, Sharon Tirrell, Paolo opened Nicole Zervas Dance Academy in 1989.

Throughout the next 30 years, she has watched her “students grow. Both emotionally and through their dance skill; and learn to have confidence in themselves and to be proud of who they are.” Paolo commented on how inspiring it is for her to be apart of that growth.

The NZDA studio is now coming on their 30th season, but regardless of what anniversary is being celebrated, Paolo is always reflecting on the previous year in order to improve her next recital. There is a key focus on growth that NZDA continues to act on, bettering all aspects of the studio.

Paolo describes this as striving to better the studio without comparing NZDA to other surrounding dance schools: “I respect all of the other dance directors and schools . . . [I] hope that we can all share the love of dance together.”

With this in mind, NZDA began hosting a Dance-A-Thon for Dana Farber Cancer Institute for the past two years. Last year, the studio brought surrounding schools together to raise money for cancer research through the art of dance. By dancing for a cause, it reminded Paolo of the reason she started dancing: communication: “one voice, one mission,” She commented on bringing hundreds of students together for this event.

Nicole Zervas offers a variety of classes for ages as young as 18 months - Tiniest Toes, where the child is accompanied by a parent or guardian during the time. As the child gets older, they enter Tiny Toes and perform in a recital at the end of June. From there, multiple classes are available including ballet, tap, jazz, hip-hop, and tumbling. For older students, Latin, contemporary, pre-pointe, and pointe are also offered.

Paolo said she does not believe “dance should be judged with a trophy . . . dance is an art form.” So while there are many classes offered, NZDA does not have a competition team. Dance is a personal art, in her eyes, and that the individual should be valued with movement rather than awards.

Though each student goes through a process of weekly classes, hard work, memorization, and dedication to prepare for the annual recital, the studio offers much more than dance. At Nicole Zervas, the students learn self-discipline, time management, and life balance between activities, school, friends, and family. It helps children become well-rounded, giving them skills they will use for a lifetime.

The students are also offered other opportunities to dance other than the recital, including the Madonna Della Cava Feast in the North End and occasionally Dance The World Disney events, to showcase their talents publically.

Gianna Chianca, a current senior for this upcoming dance season, has danced for NZDA since she was three years old. She currently takes almost all classes that are available, and has grown to love contemporary dance. She is an assistant for the younger classes as well and enjoys being apart of their dance experience.

As this is her senior year, Chianca commented on the family-like friendships she has made and how hard it will be to graduate and leave the studio. However, she hopes to return as an alumnus and down the road, a teacher.

Paolo sees the Senior Send Off as a new chapter, opening the doors for another part of their lives. So while Chianca is starting her last year as a student, NZDA will always be an open home for her. The bonds at NZDA are irreplaceable and last a lifetime. Many staff members danced at the

YELLOW BUS ROUTES FOR SY2019-2020

Chelsea Schools Redesigns Yellow Bus Routes for Upcoming School Year to Reduce Student Waitlist

This year, while Chelsea elementary school students will be waiting for their buses at the District’s well-known and well-used bus stops, they may find that a different bus number will arrive when compared to last year. That is because this summer, District staff redesigned the yellow bus routes serving the Mary C. Burke Elementary School Complex to maximize the number of students who have seats on the first day of school and dramatically reduce the number on the wait list. “This year, we looked at the ridership data and created the bus routes from scratch so that we could get the greatest number of elementary school students into bus seats on the first day of school”, said Dr. Mary M. Bourque, Superintendent of Schools. That means that this year two buses will start their routes in Prattville where a large number of students live. Another will begin on Admiral’s Hill. The new routes should also help reduce traffic congestion as fewer buses will be crossing past each other on their way to pick up children.

Letters have been mailed to the families of all students who have assigned seats on the buses starting next week. In the letters are laminated tags with the student’s first name, bus stop, and bus number. The District is asking that these tags be attached to the students’ backpacks so they can be easily identified as riders.

“We do have approximately 100 families who still have not brought in proof of address to the Parent Information Center and we strongly encourage them to bring their materials in as quickly as possible so their child can get a seat on the bus”, said Daniel Mojica, Director of the Parent Information Center. The District estimates that most of these students can still get a seat, but if a particular route is full, they may end up on the waitlist.

For questions, please contact the Parent Information Center at 617-466-5500.

RUTAS DE AUTOBUSES AMARILLOS PARA EL AÑO ESCOLAR 2019-2020

Las Escuelas de Chelsea Rediseña Rutas de Autobuses Amarillos para el Próximo Año Escolar para Reducir la Lista de Espera de los Estudiantes

Este año, mientras los estudiantes de las escuelas primarias de Chelsea estarán esperando sus autobuses en las paradas de autobús más conocidas y usadas del Distrito, pueden encontrar que llegará un número de autobús diferente en comparación con el año pasado. Esto se debe a que este verano, el personal del Distrito rediseñó las rutas de autobuses amarillos que sirven al Complejo de las Escuelas Primarias Mary C. Burke para maximizar el número de estudiantes que tienen asientos el primer día de clases y reducir drásticamente el número en la lista de espera. “Este año, analizamos los datos de los pasajeros y creamos las rutas de los autobuses desde cero para que pudiéramos llevar a la mayor cantidad de estudiantes de la primaria a los asientos del autobús el primer día de clases”, dijo la Dra. Mary M. Bourque, Superintendente de las Escuelas. Eso significa que este año dos autobuses comenzarán sus rutas en Prattville, donde vive una gran cantidad de estudiantes. Otro comenzará en Admiral’s Hill. Las nuevas rutas también deberían ayudar a reducir la congestión del tráfico, ya que cada vez menos autobuses se cruzarán para recoger a los niños.

Se han enviado cartas a las familias de todos los estudiantes que le han asignado asientos en los autobuses a partir de la próxima semana. En las cartas hay etiquetas laminadas con el nombre del alumno, la parada del autobús y el número del autobús. El Distrito está pidiendo que estas etiquetas se adhieran a las mochilas de los estudiantes para que puedan identificarse fácilmente como viajero o pasajero.

“Tenemos aproximadamente 100 familias que aún no han traído una prueba de domicilio al Centro de Información de Padres y les recomendamos encarecidamente que traigan sus pruebas lo más rápido posible para que su hijo (a) pueda sentarse en el autobús”, dijo Daniel Mojica, Director del Centro de Información de Padres. El Distrito estima que la mayoría de estos estudiantes aún pueden obtener un asiento, pero si una ruta en particular está llena, pueden terminar en la lista de espera.

Para preguntas, comuníquese con el Centro de Información de Padres al 617-466-5500.

6 ways to set up the perfect workstation

(StatePoint) Before the school year kicks into high gear, it's important to give yourself the tools needed for academic success and maximum organization.

Here are five ideas to set up the perfect workstation:

1. Clear up clutter. First, determine how you use items. If paperwork is referenced multiple times a week, store it on your desk in a file tray or upright sorter. If you use these items more rarely, you can store them in a drawer using a hanging filing system. Likewise, keep the tools you use most -- pens, pencils, calculator, on your desk. A compartmental caddy is a tidy way to store such items of varying sizes.

2. Give it some life. Plants can help liven up a work atmosphere, bringing vitality to the space. Improving indoor air quality and being associated with mental health benefits, houseplants are more than just

3. Visualize it. Great for prepping school presentations or easily viewing documents, a projector is a great addition to a student's workstation. Those in the Casio LampFree lineup feature high-brightness, are low-maintenance and have a lifetime of up to 20,000 hours, making them a good choice for students.

4. Write it down. No workstation is complete without a handy notebook, kept close by. Whether it's making to-do lists, jotting down quick thoughts or taking notes, this is a must-have item, even in today's digital world.

5. Add it up. A basic desktop calculator is essential to any student's workstation. Those from Casio feature 12 digits, and run on both battery and solar power so you can work anywhere, and with indepen-

6. The right light. If possible, set up workstations near sources of natural light for a mood and focus boost. For nighttime study sessions and for those without windows, high-quality task lighting is critical. Versatility is key, so look for a desk lamp with an adjustable neck as well as dimming capabilities. For space-savers, check out desk lamps pulling double-duty -- many of today's models feature USB charging ports at their base.

Great reading ideas to inspire young students

(StatePoint) A new school year means new classes, new teachers and new schedules. At home, you can riff on this theme with new books to be enjoyed outside the classroom, that spark interest in different subjects. To open doors for young minds, consider the following titles:

- Crafty coding: For kids with a potential interest in computers and coding, consider “How to Be a Coder.” Breaking down the principles of coding into bite-sized chunks, it will get them thinking like computer scientists in no time. Learn about loops by making a friendship bracelet, find out about programming by planning a scavenger hunt, and discover how functions work with paper fortune tellers. Children can then use their new knowledge to code by following instructions to build programs in Scratch 3.0.
- Inspiring true stories: In “DK Life Stories: Jane Goodall” kids can discover the inspiring story of Jane Goodall, a pioneer of primatology whose groundbreaking work changed the way we understand animals and ourselves.

When she embarked on her career, women were discouraged from conducting scientific research, especially when that work meant living side by side with wild animals. A self-taught scientist, Goodall bravely ventured into the bush of Tanzania to discover the secret world of chimpanzees. This new biography series for kids from DK goes beyond basic facts to tell true-life stories of history’s most interesting people.

- Edible science: Cooking is chemistry, and all 20 science experiments inside “Science You Can Eat,” are edible and fun. Young minds can find out why popcorn go “pop,” explore how taste is affected by smell, then discover the secret to making the perfect cookie. Examining interesting ingredients and exciting eating, as well as peeking into the future of food, kids will get a better understanding of what’s happening with food and why.
- A global celebration: Young readers of “Celebrations Around the World” will embark on an exciting journey through the most interesting and important festivals, celebrations and holidays enjoyed by people all over the globe.

From why skeletons dance at the Day of the Dead in Mexico to how the world’s biggest tomato fight -- La Tomatina in Spain -- gets cleaned up, stunning original illustrations and fascinating facts will inspire and inform children about cultures and religions from all over the world.

- Medieval mania: Spark an interest in history and architecture with “DK findout! Castles,” which includes lots to learn about medieval castles, including knights, jousting, sieges, drawbridges and forts. Kids can learn about castle design, from the earliest motte and bailey styles to stone fortresses and beautiful castles in Japan and India, as well as view some of the most impressive castles in the world. Packed with information and color, this book is part of a series introducing children to a range of topics in a fun, engaging way.

After school is the perfect time to explore topics of interest, and a treasure trove of books can make learning new things fun.

3 ways to save time and money on back-to-school shopping

(StatePoint) New grade levels and new routines mean it’s time to purchase back-to-school essentials that will help make this year a success. Though this time of year can be stressful for parents, a few tips below will go a long way to helping you navigate a new school year.

Save More on School Supplies

School supplies are often the top priority for parents and students when shopping for back-to-school season. Start by referencing your students’ school supply list given by the school and determining if you have leftover items from the previous school year that can be reused. Check to see if your state offers a tax-free weekend incentive to save even more. From pencils and paper to binders, markers, calculators and planners, you can enjoy hundreds of deals on the products most purchased during back-to-school season.

Meal Prep Made Simple

The new school year is often more chaotic than laid-back summer days, especially when it comes to preparing meals for your family. De-stress meal planning by taking one day a week to search ideas for breakfast, lunch and dinner with resources like DG Easy Meals, available at dollargeneral.com/easy-meals. Shop ahead for easy snacks for your family to eat between activities, like nuts, pretzels and trail mix. Making the switch to private brand items, like the Clover Valley brand at Dollar General can help you save on snacks and treats you already love. With the right amount of preparation, you can easily knock meal and snack planning off your list in no time!

Take Advantage of Discounts

Buying back-to-school items for one or more students can get pricey. While shopping for necessities, look to save even more through coupons and digital coupons. Download Dollar General Digital Coupons and check out deals before you shop. Now through September 7, all customers can save $5 on a $15 purchase of school supplies, and teachers can save 20 percent on stationery items every time they shop with a valid ID. Downloading savings before you shop saves you time in-store and ensures you are getting the best possible deals on back-to-school items. For deals, visit dg.coupons.com/coupons.

This season, don’t be overwhelmed as you take on your back-to-school shopping. With a bit of preparation, you can save time and money getting ready for the new academic year.

Preparing for the new school year

(StatePoint) Teachers, students and families busy prepping for the year ahead all know that having the right supplies in and out of the classroom can help pave the way for a successful back-to-school season. With that in mind, consider these ideas to hit the ground running:

- Math Class: There’s no reason math needs to be your most challenging course. With the right calculator, it can be easy to view how mathematical concepts actually work. For example, the fx-CG500 brings touchscreen technology to the graphing calculator. Its extra-large screen allows for more complete and detailed viewing, and its drag-and-drop functionality enables students to quickly and intuitively pull information from one representation into another. Incorporating standard Natural Textbook Display, along with drop-down menus and a soft keyboard, it’s easy to use, so you can concentrate on what matters -- absorbing the material.
- New Kicks: Kids are active and growing quickly, which means their shoes are getting worn out and outgrown regularly. The new school year is a good time of year to take inventory of a child’s shoe collection and to replace sneakers and fashion footwear that no longer fit or aren’t in tip-top shape. This can help students return to school comfortably and ready for anything, from the hallways to the playing fields.
- Swift Set-Up: Time is of the essence during the school day and educators know how important swift set-up is. Tools that can help teachers transition between classes or components of a lesson plan are critical. Technology, such as the Superior Series from Casio’s LampFree Projector line-up, can help. Using the Moderator Function, teachers can select a presenter from anywhere in a classroom and project their PC onto the screen. Data, classwork and presentations from students’ devices can be shared via a wireless connection with ease. These features are designed to reduce set-up time in the classroom and keep students focused on the curriculum.
- Ground Control: Parents can keep everyone organized by creating a central location where plans are recorded, notes are written, to-do lists are made and paperwork is organized. Whether it’s in the mud room or kitchen, be sure to select a highly-trafficked location accessible to family members of all heights to reference and update. A wall calendar, paper organizer and chalkboard are just a few of the items to consider including in this space.

- Get Creative: Learning to play an instrument is a great idea for any student, as it can jump-start creativity, help students learn to focus and problem solve, and has even been associated with higher test scores. Check out instruments designed to assist in the learning process, such as the portable Casio LK-265 Keyboard, which has the potential to open up a whole world of music with its 400 tones and 150 built-in rhythms, including the all-new Dance Music Mode. Touch-sensitive keys feature a lighting system to make learning fun, offering a great introduction to music-making.

The 13th Annual Revere Beach Memorial set for Sept. 15

The Annual Revere Beach Memorial is a candlelight vigil for families and friends who wish to remember a loved one that lost their life due to an overdose. The Revere CARES Coalition and the City of Revere are again organizing this touching event for Sunday, September 15, 2019, at the DCR William G. Reinstein Bandstand on Revere Beach (rain or shine). The event begins at sunset, approximately

7 p.m., and will end around 8 p.m. Individuals can register a name to be read by contacting Revere CARES at 781-485-6440 before 3 p.m. on Sunday the 15, or arriving between 5:45 p.m. and 6:45 p.m. on the night of the event. Participants are invited to bring a photo of their loved one to be placed on the remembrance table or boards. The program of the memorial consists of an introduction, inspirational readings/poems, lighting of candles, reading of names of those being remembered with a fire bell after each name, closing remarks, the Serenity Prayer, and music on the beach. The memorial arose due to the work of the former Revere CARES Coalition's Opiates Task Force which in 2005 documented the depth and breadth of the Oxycontin and heroin problem in the community. The task force formed an action plan which City of Revere officials, Revere CARES staff, volunteers, and community partners have been working to fulfill. The Revere Beach Memorial event was developed by a group of family members who lost a loved one to a substance use disorder. These community members and coalition volunteers comprise the event's planning committee.

Money raised by the planning committee for the Revere Beach Memorial Fund will be used to help cover the costs of this annual event, support local addiction treatment programs, and provide educational scholarships to Revere High School students impacted by substance use disorders. The first Revere Beach Memorial Scholarship was bestowed upon a graduating RHS student in 2012 and will be given to a graduating senior each year for the foreseeable future. Donations can be sent to Viviana Catano at the address below. Checks should be made payable to the Revere Beach Memorial Fund:

A SHORT STORY ABOUT A MOTORCYCLE
AND A SUDDEN TURN.

When she was a young college student,
Elizabeth Marras had a serious motorcycle accident that ultimately changed her life.
Two years after the crash, her painful open fractures had failed to heal. Then she heard about a new and complex surgery pioneered by a surgeon who used a patient's own stem cells to reconstruct the healing process. This time, her surgery and subsequent therapy were successful.

Elizabeth's experience caused her to re-examine her career aspirations. Inspired by the medical professionals who helped her reopen her entire life, she changed her major to study physical therapy—a profession where her own experience could help other patients prevail through difficult moments.

Elizabeth Marras' story is one thousands read of the most profound messages we know. Don't give up, and remember to give back. If reading it inspires just one more person to achieve something special, then its story here has been well worth while.
